OCCUPANTS OF AUTO WERE DUMPED DOWN STEEP EMBANKMENT

Accident Occurred at Foot of Hill Near Amsterdam Monday, Injured Being Taken Into Nearby Residence

Party Was On Way Home to West Virginia From Pleasure Trip Through Michigan--Dr. H. Ashton of Hebron Dressed Injuries--Machine Completely Wrecked

A frightful automobile accident occurred Monday at Amsterdam, in Bowling Green township, in which Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Amos and grandson, Charles Hamilton of Amos, Marion county, W. Va., had a narrow escape from death.

Mr. Amos is a retired merchant of the village which bears his name. It was named after his family nearly a century ago and they are prominent and influential people of West Virginia, living about 50 miles from Wheeling.

Mr. and Mrs. Amos, with their grandson, had been on a pleasure trip in Northern Michigan and were returning home in their touring car. At the foot of the Amsterdam hill, just east of the village, the chauffeur lost control of the car and it ran diagonally across the road, crashing into a tree. The occupants were thrown through the wind shield, down a 12-foot embankment, alighting among rocks which crept from the ground.

The accident occurred fortunately near the home of George Orr and it was but a short time until a number of nearby residents were on the ground to offer assistance. Both Mr. and Mrs. Amos were rendered unconscious, and Mr. Hamilton and the chauffeur, though badly shaken up, were able to assist in taking the former to the Orr residence, and Dr. H. Ashton of Hebron was summoned, making a hurried trip in an auto. An examination revealed that Mr. Amos, who is 68 years of age, sustained the fracture of four ribs and was badly bruised about the head and hips. Mrs. Amos was more seriously injured, suffering a broken arm and collar bone, several scalp wounds which required a number of stitches, and injuries to her back.

WEST POINT CADETS FREED AFTER 9 DAYS CONFINEMENT

West Point, Oct. 1.—A though freed after nine days' confinement and arrest for "silencing," Captain Rufus Longan, the one question that agitated the West Point cadet corps today was whether they or the military officers of the academy have won a victory. Following the arrest of the corps for the "silencing," every cadet positively refused to divulge to the court of inquiry the reasons or the names of those who instigated the episode. This put the entire cadet corps in practically a state of insubordination.

While the freeing of the cadets from arrest looks like a victory for them, it will not be definitely known until the court of inquiry makes its report whether or not such is the case. Should the court have succeeded in discovering who the instigators were, and should it ask that severe punishment be inflicted on them, the cadets admit they will come off the worse for the encounter. This will not be known for several days yet as the court has not summed up the evidence it secured. The freeing of the cadets from arrest came last night. Orders were issued for every member of the corps to assemble in the gymnasium. When all were there the door were locked and General Barry, in full uniform and surrounded by his staff gave the cadets a hearty cheer and talk on military discipline. Then they were freed. The cadets at once gathered on the campus and cheered for ten minutes until they happened to remember that the finding of the court might still mean severe punishment for a score or more of them when the cheering ceased.

Following the freeing of the cadets the coaches at once began work to whip the football squad into shape. The scrapping of the cadets has put the team back nearly two weeks in its practice and prospects for a good showing this season are considered dubious.

Why it Pays to Buy Advertised Goods

By Seth Brown

Because the advertiser has done something to inspire confidence. He has not only explained the value and usefulness of his product, but has put his personality and reputation behind his statements.

He can be trusted because his very business existence is at stake. He believes in his goods to the extent of investing his capital, not only in making the goods right, but in advertising, which will not prove permanently profitable if he fails to make good—secure repeat orders.

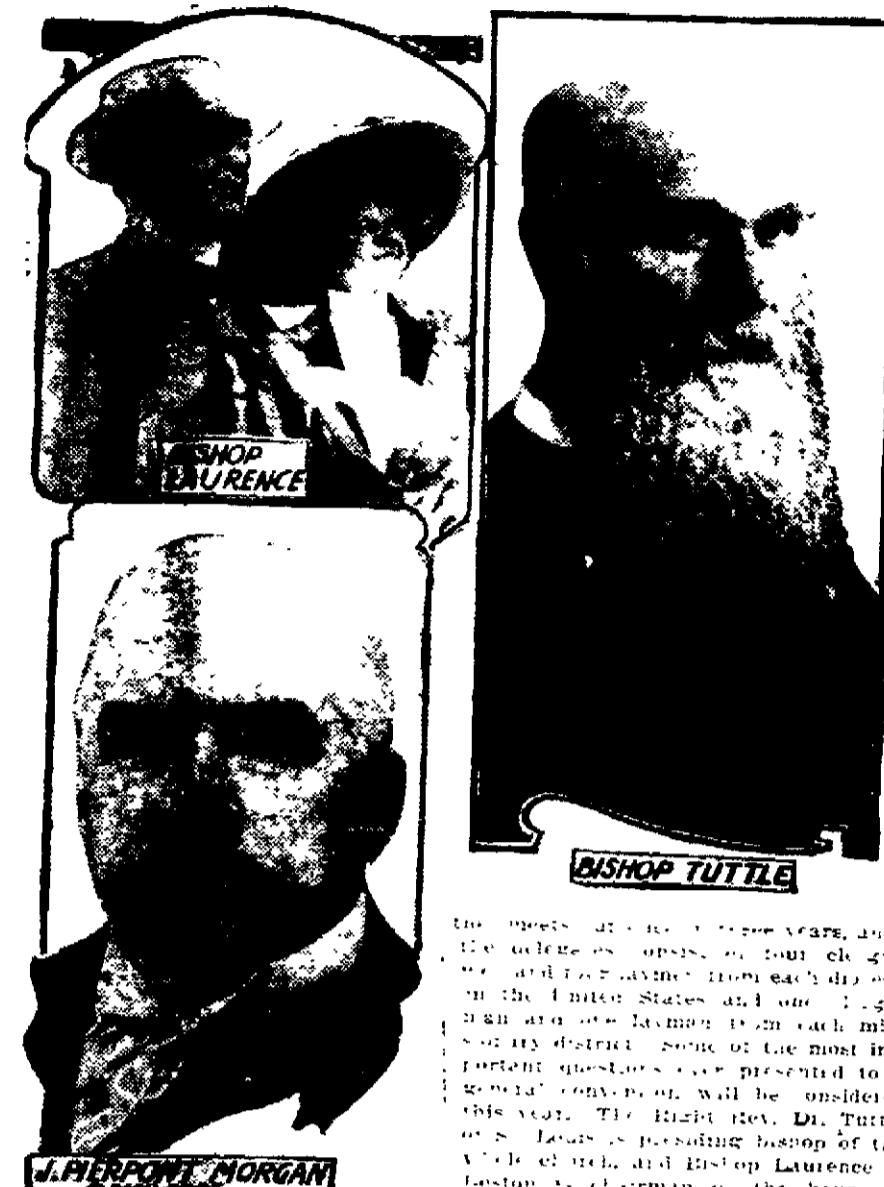

The advertising is not only a protection to the trade name, but it is the advertiser's guarantee of quality.

You are justified in being suspicious of unadvertised goods, because, however much confidence the dealer or manufacturer may have in them, he has not enough faith in them to spend money in telling others of their goodness.

It always pays to buy advertised goods.

MAY ASK GOVERNOR FOR MACHINE GUN TO ASSIST IN DISLODGING OUTLAW

Winter, Wis., Oct. 1.—The county board of supervisors here may ask the governor for a machine gun to dislodge John Dietz, an outlaw who is at bay in his cabin at Cameron Dam. His wife and three children are there with him. Myra Dietz, a 23-year-old daughter, is dying from a gun shot wound inflicted by deputies who ambushed her and two of her brothers Saturday. Myra is in a hospital at Asland, one brother is in the Winter fall wounded and the other escaped to his father.

Following the ambush Dietz sent word to Winter that he was going to kill every man connected with the affair. A cordon of deputies has been thrown around his cabin at a respectful distance. Dietz seems to have the sheriff's men outflanked. He has been at odds with the law for years the trouble starting over his alleged title to a piece of land claimed by a lumber syndicate.

Burns and Rogers are both convinced that on the night of Sept. 24 the three men again changed the name of the vessel and possibly painted it over, in order to throw the police off the scent. No launch going under the name "Peerless" is known on the bay and the authorities are now working on the theory that the missing launch is still in this vicinity under another name.

PREACHER PAN SERMONIZES ON NATIONAL GAME

New York Oct. 4.—With familiar references to Paul and Letty Leinen, Luke and Connie Mack, the Pains and Spalding's Baseball Guide in his sermon on "Baseball and Religion" in New York, is convinced today that it has the only real preacher in the Rev. Christian F. Reissner of the Grace Methodist church, whose sermon Sunday night drew many of the city's best and best of New York.

Reissner is clear morally. Rev.

Reissner declared, "Society regarding and caring more for than oil and water," Pop Anson said, and Pop was right. Bushnell is honest, and the players were more the greater success in it if you will usually find one developed along these lines and would be brought them success in other fields of endeavor. Baseball does not leave the smoky mental pictures that remain after attending any of the theatres.

EVERS' LEG TO BE PLACED IN PLASTER CAST

BALTIMORE, Oct. 4.—Physicians of the State Hospital have set the fracture in Johnny Evers' right leg, and two days will mean the doctor will be able to walk again. Evers, however, is not yet ready to return to the field, and the doctors do not let him out of bed.

Some account has been given that Evers' leg is not taken seriously, and the doctors have said that he will get along as well as a break would. The two players are about the same height, according to the size of the shoes.

It is hard for Evers to realize that he will not be able to play in the big game, but he said today that he expected Zimmerman, who will take his place, to prove one of the stars of the series.

"I believe Zimmerman will be the surprise of the series," he said. "I am sure he will beat Beane, and Coombs will and will be much better than me against Plank and Krause, the left-handers."

GROOMING TEAM TO MEET INDIANA

CINCINNATI, Oct. 4.—Coach Stagg of the University of Chicago is grooming his team to meet Indiana in the first Western Conference game of the season next Saturday. The squad will be given the harness kind of a work-out during this week and the coach hopes to get them into playing form by the time of their meeting with the Hoosiers. All of the positions on the Maroon team seem assured with the exception of quarterback. Several candidates, including Wilson and Hunt, Young, are still trying out for the position.

The first meeting this fall of the daughters of the American Revolution, will be held tomorrow in the new Memorial Auditorium.

There will be considerable business to transact, including passing upon the applications for membership of perhaps several hundred women whose lineage has been verified by the genealogical committee.

Mrs. Matthew T. Scott, vice president of the national society, gives a luncheon tomorrow in the banquet room of Memorial Continental Hall.

On Friday evening at Mayflower Hall, the ladies of the Art Embroidery Club entertained with a six o'clock dinner honoring their husbands. The dinner was a most enjoyable one and perfect in its appointments. The decoration of the hall and particularly the dining room and tables were artistic and composed of the season's choicest flowers, the color scheme being pink and green, the club colors.

The place cards, of the same colors, seated seventy-five members and guests.

After the elaborate four course meal was served the evening was spent in vocal and instrumental music which was highly enjoyed by all. The music was rendered by Miss Marie Gaumerdinger and Mr. Laurence Gaumerdinger. At a late hour all departed for their various homes.

At a one o'clock luncheon which Miss Helen Irene Jones gave today at her home in Hudson Avenue she announced her engagement to Mr. Mal-

HEART and HOME TALKS by Barbara Boyd

Little Problems of The Home.

Should This Promise Be Broken?

A correspondent is facing rather a desperate problem and writes for advice. "My mother on her deathbed made me promise to care for my sister, mildly insane, at intervals violently. Mother made me promise never to tend my sister to an institution, but always to give her a home. It was impossible to refuse such a request at such a time, and I was so upset I had little capacity either, to think clearly. So I promised. But I am engaged to be married, and when I told my girl of the promise she said she couldn't possibly care for my sister. My girl's mother is an invalid, and must live with us when we are married, and my girl says the care of the two of them would be too much for her. I am just an ordinary workingman, and do not earn enough to hire somebody to care for my sister. What ought I to do—break my promise or break my engagement? I cannot see my way clear."

It seems too delicate, almost too sacred, a subject for an outsider to touch upon. And it is indeed a desperate plight. So much enters into it—the question of right and wrong, the question of temperament—that it has to be considered from many sides.

The mother should not have exacted such a promise. No one wishes to think harshly of those who have gone into the Beyond, particularly a son of a mother. But it was selfish mother-love that asked this promise. The invalid child is always nearest and dearest to the mother-heart. Sometimes he blots out all the rest of the horizon. But it is not fair or just to sacrifice other children needlessly to this one. And, unfortunately, that is what this mother has done.

Such persons as this sister are usually cared for better in properly conducted institutions than they can be in the home, unless there is plenty of means to secure proper attendance and care. So that she would probably be better off in a well-managed institution than she would be in a home of small means with no

The greatest crisis in a woman's life is when first she becomes a mother. All the physical strength of her nature is demanded at such times, and it is necessary that her system be thoroughly prepared for the event, in order that her health be preserved for future years. The table was illuminated with pink candles bearing hand-painted shades and was elaborately adorned with Kilarny roses and similar. And a mound of pink flowers in the center of the table dainty slippers bearing the names of the young couple were hidden and the announcement was made when the guests pulled the pink ribbons extending to each plate and to which the slippers were attached.

Dainty hand-painted place cards seated the following guests: Mrs. Walter Metz, Mrs. Fulton, Van Voorhis, Mrs. O. C. Jones, Misses Addie Jones, Bertha Fulton, Bertha L. Turner, Anne Davis, Lillian Kemmerer, Marion Hatch, Marian Weiant, Mrs. Edgar Seeds of Columbus and Miss Jones.

The forty-third triennial general convention of the Episcopal church opens in Cincinnati tomorrow and it is expected that it will be the largest and most successful one yet held. It will last two weeks and will be held in Music Hall, which seats ten thousand people, and which has been undergoing repairs especially to meet the requirements of the convention at a cost of $10,000.

Wednesday morning at eight o'clock in all the Cincinnati parishes a eucharistic service will open the convention, to be followed at 10:30 at Music Hall by a Te Deum service at which the Lord Bishop of Salisbury, one of the greatest orators in England will preach. At this service there will be a large number of bishops and priests, and the music will be furnished by five hundred voices from Episcopal choirs over the state.

The many social events scheduled for the convention will open Wednesday with a dinner at the Sinton hotel, honoring the Lord Bishop of Salisbury, given by Bishop Vincent, Mrs. Strong Vincent and Mrs. Prentiss. At an auxiliary luncheon in Music Hall on October 13th, Mrs. F. S. Wright of this city will assist in serving.

Those who leave Newark today to attend the convention are Rev. L. P. Franklin, Mrs. A. T. Speer, Mrs. Frederic S. Wright, Miss Sarah Buckingham, Mr. Henry O. Norris, and Mrs. Peterman of Brooklyn, N. Y., who is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Edward Thomas. It is expected that a number of Newark people will go down to Cincinnati during this week and next for a few days stay.

A number of Newark young people formed a merry party Monday evening and went to the log cabin east of the city where a dance was enjoyed, the mandolin and guitar furnishing the music for the occasion. A dainty luncheon was served during the evening.

The chaperones were Mrs. Charles Schaus and Mrs. M. J. Grimes and in the party were Misses Anne Hofherr, Helen Ingman, Mary Schaus, Edna Wiesenthal, Rosetta Evans, Mary Bowers, Mary Owen, Miss Laura Herd of Shepard, O. Messers, Omar Patterson, Fred Shimmel, George Bowers, Richard Owens, Carl Schaus, Earl Allen, Hugh King and John Birmingham.

The Monday Sewing Club was entertained yesterday by Mrs. Frank Webb of the Granville road and a few hours spent in sewing were followed by the serving of a dainty repast.

The guests of the club were Mrs. Harrington Davis, Mrs. A. R. Pitler, Mrs. Charles Matthews, Mrs. Kemper Scott and Miss Cornelia Webb.

The Investigators' Club calendar for the year 1910-1911 has just been issued and is most attractive. The club was organized in 1896 and federated the same year, the club color is red and the club flower, the red rose. This year the club will study music, literature and miscellaneous topics.

Officers—President, Mrs. Thomas A.

one to look after her comfort but an overburdened little wife. No matter how good this wife's intentions may be, when the work of the home piles up, as it has a way of doing now and then, it is impossible to give a person requiring almost ceaseless watching the care she ought to have. So that the sister would probably be better off with the promise broken.

If his fiancee knows her physical limitations, she is quite right to refuse to enter into a marriage where she foresees only unhappiness. No blame can be attached to her under the circumstances for wishing to break the engagement.

But should the man let her break the engagement, or should he break his promise?

A promise is a rather sacred thing, though it is not inviolable. We are not perfect beings and mistakes can be made, even in making promises. Besides, this promise was entered into under great stress of emotion, when one could neither think nor reason clearly. But if the man will be wretched all his life if he breaks it, if the broken promise will hang like an incubus shadowing his life, then he had better manfully shoulder the burden and go on without making moan. This is for him to decide.

"Doan' wan' ter 'sturb yo', major, but is dey any news in de paper?"

"No," said the major. "no, there isn't any news today. Yes, there is, too. There's a war between France and Morocco."

"S dat so?" said the negro. "S dat so, an' is dey really a war, with fightin' an' blood-killing?"

"A real war," repeated the major.

"Colic!" said the negro, gathering up his reins. "Char did yo say dat wahn was, major?"

"Morocco," said the major, turning again to the sheet.

"Well," said the colored man. "Dey suddenly has got a fine day for it. Glad-dap!" And he clattered down the road.

Imagine his surprise when he was answered by what sounded very much like a rascal at the other end of the field. He bled again much harder, and there was a second response—this time almost in his ear. It was from the farmer's bull, who, in response to a challenge to a further contest, promptly tossed the challenger into the air. When he had recovered from the shock the trombone player shouted defiantly into the darkness: "Ye great coward! But ah can tell ye one thing, my lad. Ye may be a vera strong man, but je're no musician."

The next day Marjorie came running home, and with a kiss, exclaimed:

Try This Home-Made Cough Remedy

Costs Little, But Does the Work Quickly, or Money Refunded.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with $\frac{1}{2}$ pint of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put $\frac{3}{4}$ ounces of Pineix (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle; then add the Sugar Syrup. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

You will find that this simple remedy takes hold of a cough more quickly than anything else you ever used. Usually ends a deep-seated cough in side of 24 hours. Splendid, too, for whooping cough, chest pains, bronchitis and other throat troubles. It stimulates the appetite and is slightly laxative, which helps end a cough. This recipe makes more and better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for $2.50. It keeps perfectly and tastes pleasant.

Pineix is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, and is rich in guaiacol and all the natural pine elements which are so healing to the membranes. Other preparations will not work in this formula.

This plan of making cough syrup with Pineix and Sugar Syrup (or strained honey) has proven so popular throughout the United States and Canada, that it is often imitated. But the old, successful formula has never been equalled.

A guaranteed of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pineix or will get it for you. If not, send to the Pineix Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Harding Scores Herrick.

Because former Governor Herrick supported Taft for the presidential nomination, the following caustic reference to Mr. Herrick appeared in the editorial column of Warren G. Harding's paper, The Marion Star, of December 12, 1907:

"To those who marvel that ex-Governor Herrick should so earnestly boost the Taft candidacy it ought to be written that Mr. Herrick fails to grasp the extent of the wretched secretary's contribution to his defeat. Not only that but Mr. Herrick was in sympathy with what Mr. Taft said, and was on the verge of denouncing bosses—Cox and all the rest himself. Only the rare good sense of a couple of newspaper correspondents saved Mr. Herrick from making a ridiculous denunciation of Cox on the stump, which would have done little but add to the gaiety of the campaign. But there is another reason for Mr. Herrick's devotion to Mr. Taft: he hates Senator Foraker, as the old lady said, like pizen."

IMITATION OF DICK BY ROOSEVELT

Many people supposed Roosevelt was a genuine Progressive when he made his Western stumping tour. But he completely fooled everybody that thought so. He went back to New York, held a conference with Taft at New Haven, and then turned a political summertime, the like of which is not to be found in the country's annals. He turned the New York state of automobiles: for the protection of convention over to Taft, and by the aid of federal office holders with whom he allied himself, carried out as object an endorsement of the Taft administration, stand-patism and all, as had previously been done by Charles Dick in Ohio. The Dick endorsement in Ohio that so disgusted Insurgents and Progressives throughout the great Middle West, was simply imitated and strictly followed by Roosevelt in New York.

The Los Angeles Outrage.

The awful tragedy at Los Angeles, California, by which a large and well known newspaper plant, the Daily Times, was blown to destruction by some powerful explosive placed in the building, is a shock to the entire country. The paper was not an employer of union printers. As an advocate of what is termed "industrial freedom," it had been carrying on a policy of opposition to union labor.

The officers and leaders of the Typographical Union of the country deplore the Los Angeles outrage and disclaim all responsibility for it.

Regarding the employment of union printers the Los Angeles Times has differed from newspapers in general of the country, especially in the cities. For some years all such offices, with few exceptions, have had in their employ none other than union printers.

It has come to be well understood that the newspaper that professed friendship for union labor can prove it best by carrying the union label at the head of its columns.

When the Typographical Union was first established in Newark some years ago, it was done by the personal cooperation of the editor of the Advocate, who believed then as he does now, that the union is an organization that is beneficial to both the publisher of a daily newspaper and its employees.

It is to the credit of the Typographical Union leaders that they deplore the Los Angeles outrage. The Union has always adjusted differences with publishers in an amicable manner.

Harding's Estimate of Cox's Political Power.

When Warren G. Harding, who was elected lieutenant governor with Myron T. Herrick in 1903, was considering the opportunity to turn traitor to Herrick in 1905, George B. Cox, of Cincinnati, issued a statement in favor of Herrick which cowed Mr. Harding's ambition at that time.

Commenting on the Cox declaration in Herrick's favor, Mr. Harding's paper, The Marion Star, said editorially January 17, 1905:

"The statement was ample at any rate to develop the situation. Mr. Harding is glad to have his friends at home, and at a distance, know that the declaration of Mr. Cox does not change his attitude. It may solidify the 'organization.' But Mr. Cox's statement, big as he is, cannot settle nominations. If Mr. Cox's approval determines candidates there is no need to hold conventions, no need to ask the publications of the state what their preferences are. If Mr. Cox can determine the governorship in 1905, he can name the United States senator and governor in 1906 and 1910 and the more than half million Republican voters of the state can go about their private affairs reaping the harvest of prosperity, assured that the present party organization has things adjusted for all time to come."

Mr. Cox did name the candidate in 1905. He did it again in 1910, didn't he? just as Mr. Harding said he could. He did it when he switched the solid vote of Hamilton county from Brown of Dayton to Harding on third ballot, which insured Mr. Harding's nomination.

Think Before Speaking.

Mr. Harding says "I am thinking of bringing up the reactionary record of the Democracy and its candidates, and also that 'Governor Harmon has always been a reactionary.'

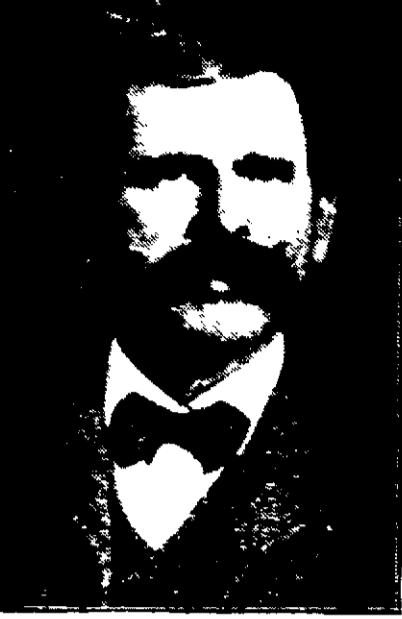

Better take it out in thinking, Warren. Do a powerful lot of thinking before doing anything so foolish.

Governor Harmon's recommendations for a single tax board; for the creating of local boards of tax review by local authorities; for a 10-mill tax limit; for a single board to manage all state institutions; for an inventory of the state's millions of dollars worth of property so as to check disappearance and leakage; for the protection of the public against reckless running of automobiles; for the protection of REPUBLICAN GRAFTERS SHIELDED BY HARDING AND ATTY. GEN. DENMANA Startling Array of Facts and Figures as to Grafting and Grafters for Ohio Voters to Consider.

Columbus Oct. 4—Finally it came. Mr. Harding has at last paid to shield Republican grafters by imputing a like reflection upon State Treasurer Creamer for $310.60 personal expenses charged to the state when Creamer was fire marshal.

Now let us get right down to brass tacks on this subject for a few minutes. Let us consider all the facts and the reasons therefor. To do so it is necessary to begin at the beginning.

When Horace M. Ankeney, a Republican, was dairy and food commissioner, a ruling was made by the Republican attorney general at that time, John M. Sheets, which enabled Mr. Ankeney to charge the state his traveling expenses in passing back and forth between his office in Columbus and his home in Greene county. Mr. Ankeney served two terms in that office, during all of which time he resided at his home in Greene county.

No doubt it would be found, if any person would take the time and trouble to investigate, that other state officials availed themselves of the ruling of Attorney General Sheets to collect such expenses, all state officials at that time being Republicans. At any rate Hy. D. Davis, when he was fire marshal, collected personal expenses of the same kind to the amount of $959.55.

None of these vouchers for personal expenses were ever questioned by State Auditor Guilbert, that valiant Republican official who held up the vouchers for an investigation of George B. Cox's corrupt government of Cincinnati and Hamilton county.

Republican officials having charged such personal expenses to the state in accordance with the ruling of the Republican Attorney General Sheets, and had them paid without question by the Republican State Auditor Guilbert and Republican State Treasurers Cameron and McKinnon, Mr. Creamer charged after he was appointed fire marshal until he removed his family to Columbus from his home in Belmont county, believing such charges to be legal according to the precedents established by Republican state officials under the ruling of a Republican attorney general.

Mr. Creamer's successor W. S. Rogers, charged the same kind of expenses, amounting to nearly $1100.

All the time that Hy. Davis and Rogers occupied the office of fire marshal they continued to reside in Cleveland.

These precedents are cited to show that Mr. Creamer charged simply what Republican officials before him and after him had charged without any question being made as to legality.

The ruling of the present Republican attorney general, Mr. Denman, that such personal expenses should not be charged to the state was made long after Creamer had retired from the office of fire marshal. The ruling of the present attorney general, reversing the ruling of Attorney General Sheets, was made not only a year or more after Creamer retired from the office of fire marshal, but was made even after Creamer's successor in that office, W. S. Rogers, was retired.

The investigating committee, which held that Davis had illegally charged to the state $959.55 and Rogers had illegally charged nearly $1100, also held that Creamer had illegally charged $247.50—according to the ruling made by the attorney general after all three of them had retired from the office of fire marshal and reversing the ruling of a former attorney general which was in force while all of them served in that office.

Mr. Creamer promptly paid back into the state treasury not only the $247.50 which the committee ruled against him, but added to it $63.10 more to cover the expenses of an official trip to Washington to attend a national convention of fire marshals, making $310.50, which Creamer paid back into the treasury. Mr. Creamer insisted that if the $247.50 personal expenses were not a legal charge the expenses of his trip to Washington could not be legally charged against the state, although it has been customary for state officials to attend such conventions and have their legitimate expenses therewith paid by the state.

Although Creamer has paid back $310.50, Hy. Davis has not yet paid back the $959.55 charged against him, nor has Rogers paid back the $1100 charged against him.

Attorney General Denman, the Republican state official who made the ruling reversing Attorney General Sheets, now says that Creamer should have been indicted for making illegal charges against the state, but saved himself by "an immunity bath." In testifying before the investigating committee. But although Hy. Davis and Rogers have not paid back to the state the claims against them, Attorney General Denman has not said one word about indicting them and has even brought suit against them to compel them to pay back the amounts charged against them.

When Hy. Davis was fire marshal he did not save to the state one dollar of the funds allowed for the operation of that office. In the year which W. S. Rogers served as fire marshal, he spent the state's money with a lavish extravagance that would have produced a deficit of several thousand dollars if continued to the end of his term, had not Governor Harmon removed him on the ground of extravagance. And although Creamer conducted that office two years and made the unprecedented record of 72 convictions for arson in one year, and turned back into the state treasury $11,064.32 of a balance over expenditures, Mr. Harding and Mr. Denman and the mud-slingers of the Republican machine are calling him a grafted because he charged $310.60 for expenses of exactly the same kind that Republican state officials had charged before and since.

As state fire marshal, if Mr. Creamer illegally charged $310.60 (which he has paid back) is made up for it, almost forty times over by turning into the state treasury a balance of $11,064.32 saved by economical management of the office and successfully conducting more prosecutions for incendiarism than can be found in the record of any of his Republican predecessors. If Creamer were a grafted he would have gobbled up the whole of that $11,064.32, instead of saving it to the state.

The cry of graft that is raised by Mr. Harding, Mr. Denman and the mud-slingers of the Republican campaign against Mr. Creamer does not speak well for them.

Mr. Harding and Mr. Denman on the stump are making more of a fuss about that $310.60 which they say Mr. Creamer took illegally (and paid back without being sued) than they are about the $116,785, with 6 per cent interest, charged against McKinnon that Attorney General Denman was ordered by Governor Harmon to sue for; or about the $211,720, with 6 per cent interest, that Attorney General Denman was ordered by Governor Harmon to sue former State Treasurer Cameron for; or about the $5,674 claim against Guilbert already settled, and a $31,809 claim against Guilbert still pending; or about the $38,000 graft in Mark Slater's administration of the office of state printer; or about the $18,124.75 found against former State Secretary Laylin in the report of the Howe senate committee, for which no suit has yet been brought by Attorney General Denman, it being the same L. C. Laylin who is chairman of the committee managing the campaign for Mr. Harding. Mr. Denman and other candidates on the state Republican ticket; or about the claim of $3,274 found by the Howe senate committee against Secretary of State Thompson, for which no suit has yet been brought by Attorney General Denman; or about the $959.55 claim against Hy. Davis for which no suit has yet been brought by Attorney General Denman; or about the $1100 against W. S. Rogers for which no suit has yet been brought by Attorney General Denman; or about the thousands of dollars of graft in the state board of public works, which Attorney General Denman made no effort to discover, and which is being defended by a subordinate of his department.

And Mr. Harding, Mr. Denman and the mud-slingers of the Republican machine are raising the cry of $310 "graft" against Mr. Creamer to divert the attention of the people of Ohio away from the $11,064 he saved to the state when he was fire marshal and the $40,331 he has saved to the state of Ohio as its treasurer by an honest handling of the state's deposits at an increased rate of interest obtained by competitive bids.

In a speech at the Lincoln banquet in Dayton last February, Mr. Harding sought to defend Republican state officials against the charge of graft by calling it "magnified misdeavor." Here is Mr. Harding himself joined by Attorney General Denman, engaged in magnifying an item of $310 they charge against Mr. Creamer, in the hope of making it look as big as all of the graft charges against Republican officials combined, amounting to upwards of $300,000. They assail Creamer with mock virtue, like school children making faces and saying, "You're another."

Creamer's record in the state treasury is distinguished for its honesty, efficiency and financial gain to the taxpayers and citizens of Ohio. The $40,330 he has gained to the treasury in the deposit of state funds at a higher rate of interest obtained by competitive bids, will more than pay the annual salaries of the governor, lieutenant governor, his own salary, and the salaries of the attorney general, secretary of state, clerk of the supreme court and the dairy and food commissioners combined.

SIR WILLIAM

Says Americans Are a Money-Mad People and He is Sorry He Did Not Locate Here Years Ago.

New York, Oct. 4.—Sir William Trehearne, former lord mayor of London, who has been in this country and Canada for two weeks, is wondering today what would happen to him if he offered a "tuppence" to an American bellboy for a tip.

"Why, I can live for a pound a day in a first class London hotel, but it costs two pounds a day in America. Still, I must admit you get very good value for your money. But your tips are continuous. They are, too, for that matter, in London, but there we do not give so much."

The former lord mayor is sorry he didn't come to America to live some forty years ago.

"By this time," he said. "I might either have been a Tammany boss or the governor of some province, or at least land some other good job where there was plenty of graft."

"What impresses me most about America is the immense energy and working powers of American men, who seem to live for nothing but making money. I would perhaps do the same thing if I were 40 years younger. Here money-making seems to be taken up as a man in any other part of the world would take up some sport—like fox hunting. When you have your fox, the sport is over."

WOLGAST'S FIGHTING DAYS MAY BE OVER

Chicago, Oct. 4.—Lightweight Champion Al Wolgast will not be able to fight for four months, and perhaps never be able to mix in hard fights according to Tom Jones, his manager. Jones returned today from Cadillac, Mich., where an X-ray examination was made of the champion's left arm which was injured in his fight with Tommy McFarland last week. The physicians announced that the arm was broken just below the elbow.

PRESIDENT OF BANKERS ASSOCIATION MAKES AN ATTACK ON POSTAL SAVINGS

Los Angeles, Oct. 4.—An attack on the postal savings law was made here today by President Pierson of the American Bankers' Association. In his reply to addresses of welcome to the bankers' convention, he charged that he had heard political pressure was being brought to bear to use the market.

He recommended the European system of bank directorage, giving each stockholder one vote regardless of how much stock he held.

POLICE POSITIVE

A first page editorial demanding that in view of the strictures directed at the unions in connection with the explosion, the strikes now on be called off.

The State Federation of Labor, which met in convention here yesterday, probably will take action today locking toward the appointment of investigators, who will work in connection with the committee named by the city officials.

Chief of Police Galloway said he expected to have one or all of the conspirators in custody within a few hours, and later he stated that he expected the news to come from San Francisco, whence has come the most promising clues so far developed.

William J. Burns, former head of the detective force engaged in the graft cases in San Francisco, is at work in that city with Los Angeles detectives who were sent north upon receipt of notification that the dynamite believed to have been in the bombs at Zeehanela's home had been purchased near San Francisco by men named Leonard, Bryson and Morris.

Burns and other detectives, with Attorney Earl Rogers and a powder expert, left for San Francisco last night, immediately after reports concerning Leonard, Bryson and Morris were received.

Forty additional patrolmen were ordered enrolled here by the council, which met in special session yesterday afternoon. Ten additional sergeants and another lieutenant will also be authorized. These men are now being enrolled and placed on guard about places where the strike troubles recently were.

Two iron founders, the Craig Slipway at Long Beach, the Alexandria Hotel Annex, now in course of construction, and several other large steel buildings are heavily guarded.

General Harrison Gray Otis, editor of the Times, is protected by a bodyguard, both in and out of his office and branch office that houses the editorial and business departments of the Times, while the auxiliary plant, where the paper is printed, is heavily guarded by plain clothes men and patrolmen.

Clauses without number coming from as far north as Seattle, and various points in California, have been pouring in upon the police, and all day the entire detective force, with a number of private detectives engaged by the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association, has been running them down.

One clue that appeared for time very promising came from Portland. Information said to have been furnished in that city sent detectives out to bring in ex-employees of the Times, but the address given could not be found, either in the city or its environs.

Other clues are being investigated and in compliance with orders from the chief of police that every one failing within the police classification "undesirable and dangerous" should be taken in; more arrests are being made hourly. These arrests, however, are regarded as merely perfume.

General Otis and Harry Chandler, assistant general manager of the Times, are making arrangements for holding one funeral service for the victims of the disaster, while a committee appointed, consisting of the editors and managers of all the papers in the city, are gathering a

HOW A DOCTOR'S PRESCRIPTION WAS GIVEN THE NAME IT BEARS

Absolute Truth of Story Attested by Guarantee to Give $25,000.00 to Any Charitable Institution if Shown Otherwise.

Father John's Medicine Builds Up the Body and Strengthens System Without Use of Alcohol or Dangerous Drugs.—A Doctor's Prescription. 50 Years in Use.

Half a century ago, Rev. Fr. John O'Brien of Lowell, Mass., through overwork and exposure, became seriously run down. A cold and stubborn cough and lung trouble threatened his life. An eminent specialist gave Father John a prescription to cure the cold and remove the lung trouble as well as to build up and strengthen the body. The clergyman began to improve at once, the cough disappeared and his lungs healed. It corrected his digestion, made new tissue and Father John was soon restored to his former health and strength.

Father John recommended the medicine to his parishioners and friends and because of its merits it became the family remedy in thousands of homes, and became known as "Father John's Medicine," having been so named by the people, and was advertised, all with the approval of Father John.

It will cure all throat and lung troubles, prevent consumption, and make flesh and strength if taken faithfully. It is not a patent medicine and does not contain alcohol or poisonous drugs.

As a guarantee that the story of Father John's Medicine is absolutely true, the sum of $25,000.00 will be given to any charitable institution if it can be shown otherwise.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

Bruce and
The Spider

"Poor Thing!" Said the King to Himself!

IT is a good thing, children," said daddy to Jack and Evelyn one evening when they were seated on his knees ready for their bedtime story, "when you have something to do that is worth doing to stick to it until it is done and not give it up. There was a king of Scotland once who learned this lesson so well that it proved of great value to him, and so it may be to you."

"This king was named Robert Bruce. He was a brave and wise man, and he had need of all his bravery and wisdom, for he had to fight hard to keep his crown. The English were trying very hard to take Scotland away from the Scotch and rule the country themselves."

"There were six battles fought by the Scotch against the English. Each time the Englishmen had won, and Bruce and his men had been beaten and had been forced to run away. Things looked very dark for the Scotch. It really looked as though they would have to give up their country, which they loved so dearly, and let the English rule it."

"It happened on a rainy day that King Robert Bruce was hidden in a farmhouse with a few of his men. He was discouraged over the condition of his country and was almost ready to give up. He had fought six times and had been beaten six times. What is the use of fighting on?" he thought.

"As he lay thinking in a barn he saw above him a spider preparing to spin her web. She was trying to throw a thread from one beam to another. The king watched her as she worked slowly and carefully, taking great pains. It seemed to him. Twice, three times, four times, five times, six times she tried, but she failed."

"Poor thing!" said the king to himself. "You also know what it is to try to do a thing and fail. Six times you have tried in vain to spin your thread from beam to beam, and you have failed, just as I have tried six times to beat the Englishmen who want my country and have failed. But what is this? It cannot be that you are going to try again!"

"It was indeed so. Six failures had not disengaged the spider. She made ready to try again. The king almost forgot his own worries as he saw the little insect swing herself at the end of her long, slender line toward the other beam. This time she did not fail, but succeeded in reaching the other side. The thread was spun safely and was fastened to the other beam."

"What the spider can do I can do," said the king. "I will try again." And for the seventh time he got his men together to fight the English. Another battle was fought, and the Englishmen lost and had to go back to their own country."

The connections are being made rapidly and it is expected that by Thursday consumers will be getting all the water from the new infiltration plant.

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE ORPHEUM.

An excellent bill opened the fair week at the Orpheum, Monday, and Manager Bassett is looking forward to capacity business during the time that Licking county residents gather to celebrate their annual agricultural exhibition.

Manager Bassett invites the country people to call at his pretty little Arcade theater and witness some excellent attractions. Besides the congenial manager wishes to get acquainted with some of Licking county's representative tillers of the soil. He knows that if he will furnish them with a pleasant place to while away a little time, that they will tell their neighbors and it will mean business for the future and be profitable to all interested.

The headline for the week is the "Five McGregors" and that they are a strong card can be proven by witnessing their excellent musical comedy act. Each member is an artist and they are bound to prove a big hit.

Arthur O'Brien and company had a very funny and very clever farce entitled, "His Wife's Butler". The three people in the act are all very capable. Glen Burns has a nice line of talk which he puts across in a catchy manner and he also executed many popular selections on different instruments, receiving many encores for his fine work.

Chester & Grace in a refined singing and dancing act will also be one of the drawing cards to the Orpheum during the present week. These clever young people dress their act handsomely and Monday evening were given a splendid ovation.

Manager Bassett was disappointed in one of the acts not arriving Monday, but will have one to replace it this evening so that four strong numbers will constitute the program. If you wish to see a really good strong show don't overlook this week's offering at the Orpheum.

KEITH VA DEVILLE.

The first three days of this week at the Keith Vaudeville house the Auditorium theater is showing the best bill that has yet been seen there. All three performances were given to crowded houses yesterday and that the offering pleased was shown by enthusiasm of the audience.

Cornelia and Wilbur opened the show with their acrobatic turn, and it is the best ever seen here. Most of their work is tumbling, one working straight and the other in comedy, and it is real comedy, which cannot be said of all the slap stick work given with an acrobatic act.

Glen Burns has a nice line of talk which he puts across in a catchy manner and he also executed many popular selections on different instruments, receiving many encores for his fine work.

Chester & Grace in a refined singing and dancing act concludes the bill and it is one of the largest as well as most attractive vaudeville acts ever seen here. An entire drama perhaps more of a melodrama is enacted in pantomime with a company of four or five people. The play is in full swing.

two scenes and the principle role is given by Miss Minnie Amato. She also introduces La Dance Du Couleur.

The entire company is made up of very capable actors and while not a word is spoken, it is most enjoyable, and none the less attractive from a dramatic standpoint.

The motion picture film was not so good last night, the pictures being very indistinct.

SOUTHERN THEATER.

No dramatic offering of the present season has occasioned greater interest than "The Sixth Commandment," which will be presented at the Southern theater, Columbus, Monday and Tuesday, October 10 and 11, with a splendid cast of New York players. The play, while it runs the gamut of sprightly comedy to tense tragedy, is a vigorous piece of work and leaves an impression that will not be easily forgotten.

Theater-goers are anticipating with a remarkable show of interest the forthcoming production on Oct. 12 of "The Girl From Rector's" which is declared by the Metropolitan critics to be one of the funniest of high-class productions made there in many years.

Nat C. Goodwin will appear this season under the management of Klaw & Erlanger in a new farcical play entitled, "The Captain," by George Broadhurst and C. T. Daves. Mr. Goodwin will impersonate a clubman and Broadhurst who has held a commission in the National Guard. He is traveling around the world with two companions when he meets a charming woman in Manila. Mr. Goodwin will be seen in "The Captain" at the Southern theater, Friday and Saturday, Oct. 14 and 15. The Captain possesses

BUSINESS TRANSACTED BY COUNCIL

Telephone Franchise Accepted—Mr. Eli Hull's Offer—Several Salaries "Boosted."

A number of minor matters were taken up and hurried through the mill in fast time last night when the city councilmen really settled down to the first of the October grinds. All the city's representatives were present when President Fulton rapped for order and Clerk McCarthy called the roll. No attention was paid to the natural gas matter and the mansuemeum ordinance was never referred to.

Recommend Sewer.

The street committee to whom was referred the matter of a sewer on Tenth street, reported that they had investigated the matter and found a sewer was really needed. Upon motion, their report was received and placed on file.

The Mayor's Report.

Mayor Ankle's report for month of September was read and showed that licenses to amount of $196.25 had been issued. Fines in city cases amounted to $8, while other collections reached $36. The mayor's fees were $18 and the officers' $9. In state cases the fines amounted to $471, the mayor's fees to $56 and the officers' fees to $23.

Public Service Report.

Service Director Christian in a report to the council reported that the city had taken entire charge of the water works and that much of the city was already on the municipal system. In East Newark, south of Main street and west of South Fountain street, all connections have been made and other connections will be made as fast as possible. He said he hoped to have the entire system operated from the infiltration plant by Thursday.

The report also said that the work of grading Seroco street would be begun next week and that bids would soon be received for the grading or Manning street.

Missed Safety Director.

President Fulton, when he called for the report of the safety director and no one responded, ordered Clerk McCarthy to notify Fletcher Scott, Mayor Ankle's new appointee, to be present at future council meetings.

The Telephone Matter.

The finishing touches were put on the telephone matter when the Newark Telephone Company notified the council that the franchise as granted had been accepted. City Solicitor Bolton also reported that he had paid the telephone company the sum of $1 for rental of the city phones for the next 21 years. The receipt of Manager Hollander was then read.

Eli Hull's Offer.

Communication was received from Eli Hull, offering to sell his West Newark property to the city for $35,000. Mr. Hull said that the property had historic interest and he suggested that the city buy it for a public library. He said that if this purchase price was paid he would immediately donate $5,000 for repairs and new books. The matter was quickly settled when Mr. Elsner moved that the communication be laid on the table.

M. R. Scott was then given permission to address the council, and Mr. Scott, who is a township trustee spoke of providing for families made destitute by being quarantined. He cited a recent case where three members of a family had been quarantined on account of diphtheria and the trustees had given them relief twice.

He said that in his opinion it was up to the city to care for patients of this sort, but he said the city solicitor and mayor had told him that there had been no provision made for these cases. Health Officer Krauss, who was present, said that the city, through the health department, would care for all its patients.

Local Option Money.

An ordinance was then introduced to apply the money received from fines in the county local option law to the general fund of the city. Under suspension of rules this ordinance was passed.

Overlooked a Bit.

Although the water works matter has been threshed out in Newark for years, everyone forgot that it would be necessary to make connections between the two plants and hire men, and another ordinance to complete water works was made necessary. Under a suspension of rules the ordinance was passed. Another ordinance for the transfer of funds amounting to $777 was also passed, and an ordinance by Mr. Stare authorizing the Board of Public Service to purchase water meters to the amount of $100 was pushed through under suspended rules.

Revise Ordinance.

An ordinance passed January 26, 1910, fixing the number of employees and their salary for city work was

EATS WHAT HE LIKES AFTER TAKING FREE SAMPLE

It will be welcome news to dyspeptics to learn of a remedy that, in the opinion of thousands, is an absolute cure for indigestion and all forms of stomach trouble, and, better still, it is guaranteed to do so. The remedy is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsi.

We all know the value of pure pep in indigestion, and add to this some exceptional laxative ingredients and you have a truly wonderful remedy. Mr. T. W. Worthy of Fortine, Ga., got to the point where he could not even eat or drink anything else and after many days of seeking he found the same in Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsi. Mr. Rudy Kasher of Moline, Ill., was in the same bad predicament with his stomach, took Syrup Pepsi and is now cured. Hundreds of others would gladly testify.

It is a guaranteed cure for indigestion,

STOMACH AT FAULT

Indications of Disturbed Digestion
Are Often Mistaken for Other Disorders and Cause Unnecessary Alarm.

Palpitation of the heart does not imply that the vital organ is diseased.

Pain in the back does not necessarily mean kidney disease.

Headache does not often indicate that there is anything wrong with your head.

All of these symptoms are caused by stomach trouble and when this is righted the alarming symptoms disappear. If you have them look to the condition of your stomach for the cause before you start to treat the symptoms rather than the disease.

If the sufferer from any form of stomach trouble is pale and the blood thin, the first step toward restoring the activity of the stomach is to improve the condition of the blood.

A supply of rich, well-oxygenated blood is necessary to the processes of digestion and with it, if errors in diet are avoided, nature will work a cure.

This is known as the tonic treatment for indigestion and is illustrated by the experience of Mrs. C. L. Ritchey, of No. 1401 26th street, Rock Island, Ill., who owes her recovery from stomach trouble to a thorough trial of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. She says:

"I was sick for several months with stomach trouble and nervousness. I had no appetite and what I ate pained me and formed gas. Later I had palpitation of the heart. It was almost impossible for me to get any sleep. I became run down, weak, despondent and discouraged and could not bear to have any noise around me.

"At first I thought the doctor was helping me but I really became no better. When I heard of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I made up my mind to give them a trial. It was only a short time before I began to feel better, had a good appetite, could rest well and I was cured after taking only a few boxes. I always depend upon Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and recommend them heartily.

The tonic treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills by building up the blood so that it can nourish and strengthen the weakened digestive system has made hundreds of cures in the most severe stomach disorders. A new edition of the booklet, "What to Eat and How to Eat," is free on request. Send a postal for it.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50 by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

This will cover Newark's share in the great state-wide movement to raise $100,000 for the state committee of the Y. M. C. A., two years' current expenses, the improvements in the building now authorized and the interest on the debt.

After reports there was a speech that was interesting because of the various kinds of men who took a share in it. Col. Chas. H. Kibler, Fred C. Evans, George Forster, a Roumanian citizen, J. A. Flory, Rev. Holcombe, G. H. Spencer, president of the Board of Trade; Messrs. Pratt, Van Arsdale, Marecau, Stock and Kinney of the Wehrle Co., C. H. Davis, Harry Scott, Dr. C. L. Wyeth and C. C. McLean of the Y. M. C. A., and Mr. Doneff, one of Newark's business men. Rev. Bonner closed with a brief prayer. Votes of thanks were handed out to the Newark newspapers, to the pastors, the contributors and Messrs. Van Arsdale and Rogers of the state force of Y. M. C. A. workers. A new era has begun for Newark's Y. M. C. A. Now the task is to make the building a cheery center of helpful things for thousands of men and boys.

TRAVELING MAN

Impersonated German Count at Minneapolis and Had a High Old Time.

At 11 o'clock, Oct. 4.—This afternoon is today laughing at the mayor and several prominent Germans because they lavishly entertained a Toledo, N. Y., dollar salesman who impersonated a German count to win a $10 bet. His real name is Von Buehlow and he looks like the German Chancellor.

A hotel check started things by betting he could not get away with a bill that he was a German noble. Von Buehlow registered as count and the bet was easy. He dined, wined, gave our interviews and attended receptions and ball games with Minneapolis elite for four days. He is now in Duluth selling collars and between laughs admits that he never saw Germany.

TROUBLE AT GRANVILLE OVER GRADE

Council Will Try to Settle Matters Amicably This Evening—News of the College City.

Granville, Oct. 4.—Recently the town council appropriated about $100 for the purpose of grading a street running along the base of Sugar Loaf Hill, in the western part of the village. For some days Street Commissioner Haines and a force of men have been engaged in grading the street and in doing so have cut away a considerable portion of the western slope of the hill. Some of the citizens made a vigorous protest against this, but the workmen continued with the work.

It is said that the workmen were paid $100 for the job, and that the town council had voted $100 for the purpose of grading the street.
